Liberty vs. License

The kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby, culminating in the finding of the body of the murdered infant, has served to focus public attention in the United States as no other single act has done in past years, upon the extent to which lawlessness has developed in that country. Thousands of people are aroused now who formerly regarded with indifference the daily record of murders, kidnappings, bootlegging outrages, and other gangster crimes, including open warfare between these gangs in the streets of large cities, which filled the columns of their newspapers. There is now a searching for causes of this prevailing lawlessness in the United States, but which is not characteristic of other countries.

And in seeking for the underlying cause, investigators have found they had not far to go, and that it is not necessary to delve into any great depths to discover wherein lies the basic weakness upon which present day American society is founded. It is for the people of the United States to apply their own remedies, but the prevailing state of affairs across the imaginary boundary line, and the causes therefore, should have a lesson for the people of this Dominion.

Mistake number one was made in the United States when they went from one extreme to another,—that is, from the extreme puritanism of the early New England settlers to the almost uncontrolled license of later days. From an era of unyielding rigid strictness and severity in the application of rules of personal conduct, the United States set up a fetish of personal liberty. In reaction against what had been, the public schools were made purely secular, the teaching of religion, the precepts of the Bible, and the moral law which is founded in true religion, were banned. It was argued that the churches and the home should alone concern themselves with religion and morals, and that the state should not enter such spheres, but, remaining strictly secular and neutral, let youth in its most plastic, character-forming years be trained, or not trained, in the home and on one day in the week in church or Sunday School.

The net result was that millions were not trained, Sunday became a holiday, a day of sports and amusement. The provision of a happy, sensible medium between the austere "blue" Sunday and a day of carnival was overlooked and neglected. And the children of these millions, and their children in turn, grew up in an atmosphere almost entirely secular, pleasure-loving, taught to cater to their personal appetites and passions, rather than to look upon life and its responsibilities and opportunities as a serious thing.

But mankind must have a god to which it looks for those things desired and for which man craves. So, living a life of the present, a life of pleasure and personal gratification, tens of millions in the United States set up and worshipped the Almighty Dollar as their god. The man who could amass great wealth was a "great" man. He was the one looked up to in the community, to whom others paid deference, and who was held up to the youth of the day as a worthy example to follow. The more money a man had, and the quicker he was able to get it, the more successful he was held to be, the more to be envied and emulated.

It was natural and inevitable, therefore, that the ingenuity of men was directed to discovering "get rich quick" means and methods. The morality, the lawfulness of the means and methods were considered less important than the tangible results gained. The methods of "Big Business" of half a century ago, the treatment meted out to the Indians of the western plains who were robbed, plundered, murdered and their hands taken from them, now have their counterpart in the gangster methods of bootlegging, kidnapping, and all forms of organized vice and crime.

The United States, too, has made a god of "Bigness." "The biggest in the world" is the favorite slogan of their people. Everywhere the boast is heard that this or that is the biggest in the world. In the race to create big cities that breed breeding grounds for crime, in the race to create mammoth mass production industries they have created mass unemployment leading to want and suffering and more crime. The very inventions and machines created for the benefit of their people are now used to assist the criminal element to defy, defraud, despoil and destroy people.

Finally, the United States set up another god in the name of "Liberty," but which was so freely interpreted that it quickly became license. Liberty is a fine thing; it is the birthright of all people although through the ages man has wrongfully denied it to his fellow man. Possessing the power for the time being, man has denied to other men liberty of conscience as well as liberty of body and action. But liberty is one thing, and license another and entirely different thing. Liberty can only be enjoyed where there is law and order; law impartially but strictly enforced that order may be maintained. Let law be weakened and brought into contempt and liberty is destroyed. Might not right then takes the upper hand, liberty is lost, and all become the slaves of might.

The United States today, to a greater extent than any other nation on earth, is paying the penalty for disregard of the true tenets of all religion and of moral law which is based and founded in these religious tenets, and because it has seen fit to set up other false gods to worship. The worship of the "Golden Calf" sent an old world nation wandering in the wilderness for forty years. It paid for its departure from the truth. Other nations since then have paid. The United States is paying now in the scourge which the lawless elements it has developed are now laying upon it. And all nations will inevitably pay if they disregard moral laws and replace true liberty with license. That is the lesson for the people of Canada to take to heart.

League Of Nations

Is Greatest Human Agency For Preserving Peace, Says Sir Robert Borden

Expressing the belief that the League of Nations is educating the nations to live in co-operation, Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war time premier, told the League of Nations Society in Canada, at its annual meeting at Ottawa, that he believed the League was the greatest human agency for preserving peace of the world.

Disappointment at the efforts of the League to achieve world disarmament and in the response which had been made to the world disarmament petition was expressed by Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., in a short address.

Dr. H. M. Tory, of Ottawa, was re-elected president of the society and three new names were added to the list of officers: Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, was elected honorary vice-president; H. J. McNulty, of Ottawa, becomes honorary treasurer, and John W. Duff, editor-in-chief of the Winnipeg Free Press, Winnipeg, was chosen as a vice-president.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce indigestion, acidity and consequently flatulence. These foods that experience the digestive tract, and are difficult to digest, are those that are most likely to cause trouble. Nine times in ten, however, indigestion and acidity are due to excessive acidity and the consequent burning of the stomach. Keep the stomach calm and sweet by feeding it of the foods they like best, and have no stomach trouble. Thousands of people who do this daily by merely taking after the lead of a little Bismarck Magnesia, store in either powder or food form, take Bismarck Magnesia. Instantly neutralizes stomach acidity, forms a healthy and meaty digest as naturally and palatably as the stomach of a healthy and strong man. Bismarck Magnesia is a lot of good food for the stomach, and makes your daily life a pleasure.

Radio broadcasting cost the Canadian National Railways $441,082. In 1929, the House Committee on railways and shipping was advised, but only $114,000 is to be spent in 1932. The gross figures for 1930 were $420, 603, and for 1931, $326,248. There was a certain amount of revenue from rental of facilities and tolls to the Canadian National Telegraph, in addition to the advertising benefits which could not be reckoned in dollars and cents.

British Buy Canadian Products

British Now Providing Excellent Market For Our Wheat, Bacon and Cheese

Canada is selling more to Great Britain, detailed figures recently tabulated in the British House of Commons revealed.

British purchases of Canadian wheat in the four months ending April 30 amounted to 9,104,000 hundredweights of 112 pounds, compared with 7,074,000 hundredweights in the corresponding period of 1931. Imports of Russian wheat dropped again. For the month of April, they were only 5,200 hundredweights against 1,337,000 in April, 1931.

Imports of Canadian bacon for the four months ending April 30, amounted to 57,275 hundredweights, a heavy increase compared to 4,693 for the corresponding period of 1931.

Sales of Canadian hams rose from 18,492 hundredweights in the first four months of 1931 to 30,856 hundredweights this year.

Imports of Canadian cheese had a remarkable increase in the four-month period of from 6,385 to 21,065 hundredweights.

Salmon gained from 28,984 to 52,398 hundredweights, unmanufactured Canadian tobacco from 3,880,000 pounds to 6,863,000 pounds (weight). The total British purchases of Canadian merchandise in the quarter ending March 31, it was also shown, were $2,300,000 against $6,160,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1931.

United Kingdom products exported to Canada in the quarter ending March 31, totalled $3,475,000 against $4,048,000 in the corresponding quarter of last year.

Serious Marketing Situation

British Columbia Growers Expect Surplus Of Apples This Year

A serious marketing situation faces British Columbia fruit-growers this year due to the heavy increase in the crops, according to E. J. Chambers, president of the associated growers of the province. Preliminary reports, he said, indicated this year's apple crop would show a gain of a million boxes over 1931.

These means, Mr. Chambers added, that a market for 1,000 carloads would have to be found outside western Canada.

NEW INVENTION DOES AWAY WITH COOKING ODORS

Even fish and cauliflower how down to Canapar Cookery Parchment

BETTER, CHEAPER AND EASIER COOKING

Delicious as cauliflower, cabbage and certain other vegetables are, they have imposed a heavy penalty on people who foolishly cooked them. Not to mention those who had to suffer the odor without enjoying the finished product. The same thing is equally true of fish.

Canapar Cookery Parchment, a very ingenious invention, does away with this annoyance entirely. While sealing off odors, it also retains flavor and food value. Cooking in Canapar actually parallels the famous French method of steaming and confining food and its flavor in the closed casserole.

You buy Canapar in a large envelope of handy-size sheets which may be rinsed out and used over and over again because they won't absorb odors. When boiling vegetables you simply wet the Canapar and lay a bag similar to a pudding bag. If you steam them, you line the steamer with Canapar, arrange food and seasoning, and fold back corners of the Canapar to prevent steam from dripping back. You can actually cook three vegetables at once in the same steamer, this way—save fuel—and the flavors will not intermingle.

Steamed, or boiled, fish comes out firm, solid and swimming in its own juice. No odors. No sticky steamer or saucpan to clean up afterwards.

Line your roasting pan with Canapar, then the fat and juice can't burn. Meat is more succulent and there is no scorching or scraping of the pan afterwards.

Many women use Canapar for a dish cloth—it is so silky and satisfactory, and doesn't spread lint.

You'll never be without Canapar once you start using it. It saves time and money. Made by the makers of the famous PARASANI Heavy Waxed Paper in the Great Britain.

Special Offer

Most grocers, druggists and department stores sell Canapar, but if yours doesn't, just send the coupon and we'll give you a new and unique book entitled "Leftovers" containing one hundred recipes as a bonus for your trouble.

Anglo-American Good Will On Firmer Footing Now Than Ever Before, Says U. S. Paper

There is reason for believing that Anglo-American good will has got its roots struck more firmly into the solid ground of mutual respect and dignity than in earlier periods—even those when the plant seemed to be flowering most effulgently. Too frequently in the past one has detected a slight wadness, a touch of artificiality, about its most brilliant petals. Before the World War the work of our own horticulturists was often tinged with a sense of inferiority and with the envy and irritation that go with it; while that of the British was not wholly free from a certain condescension. Amid the dazzling prosperity of the post-war world these poles were, perhaps, reversed. British statesmanship continued to found itself upon Anglo-American understanding, but the British people could not quite forgive us for being such a spectacular success in our own way.

Both moods have collapsed amid the stern realities of the depression. A common adversity has given each people a better appreciation of the real qualities and greatness of the other than either enjoyed five years, or twenty-five years ago. The two nations regard each other with less sentimentality than they have sometimes felt, but with much less of ignorant irritation. Publicists who once amused themselves by laboring transatlantic fables, who wasted their time in warning Americans against entanglement with perfidious Albion or Britons against enmeshment in American mud, are now dropping all that. Each nation now eagerly scans the opposite shore of the ocean, waiting to cheer every sign of progress in the other as possibly the first step toward recovery for both. Neither power, in short, is any longer overawed by or afraid of the other, there results an atmosphere in which friendship of the sturdy, unornamental but useful sort can grow and prosper.—New York Herald-Tribune.

Shows That Live Stock Was the Saving Factor

Industry Weathered This Year Better Than Other Products Of Farm Industry

The Review of the Live Stock Market and Meat Trade for 1931, just issued by the Markets Intelligence Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, states:

"The commercial meat animals in industry weathered the year much better than any other major branch of farm industry. Indeed, saleable live stock, and with this, of course, we must include poultry, was to its possessor the saving factor in the year's business on the farm. At the opening of the new year, those producers who had included live stock in their 1931 programme, found themselves in a much more advantageous position than those who had not."

Adding Insult To Injury Toogood's face wore a worried frown as he approached Butler.

"I say, old man," he said, "I am sorry, indeed, that I called you a rhinoceros yesterday."

Butler was ready to forgive. "Quite all right, old boy," he said hurriedly; "you said it in the heat of the moment, as it were."

"Yes," returned Toogood, "I read in the paper today that a rhinoceros is worth £200."

"Do you believe a man can love two women?"

"Yes, but only till one of them finds out."—Interessante Blatt, Vienna.

Great Booster For Canada

Prince Of Wales Advises British Business Men To "Step Right Over"

Canada has a great booster in the Prince of Wales. His is the type of Canadian citizenship which might well be emulated to the advantage of the Dominion. Recently the magazine "Canada," published in London, quoted His Royal Highness as follows: "Step right over and see Canada for yourself. Remember it takes only six days across the Atlantic and only a few more to each the Rockies and the Pacific Coast. And if your business cannot spare you, remember there are such things as business holidays."

There is a double intent in the Prince's invitation to the business men of the Old Country to "step right over" and see Canada. In it he appeals to their inclination for pleasure, but at the same time does not neglect their business instincts. With a suggestion of slyness he tells them to make the one visit on the other, and yet get the advantage of both, and to a man of affairs the possibility is arresting.

There is, as well, a desire to promote a greater interest in the Dominion and its trade potentialities. Quite recently the Prime Minister has made a similar proposal. He would have all the visitors to the Conference in July take a trip through Canada, from coast to coast. He believes that were they to do so they would obtain a greater impression of the trade possibilities the Dominion has to offer and of the aspirations of the people. It is a great idea, and it is to be hoped that if their time permits many of them will adopt the suggestion. They may be sure of a very hearty welcome.—Regina Daily Star.

Flight Of Wild Geese

Bird Tagged By Jack Miner At Kingsville Found In B.C.

An idea of the vast stretches of territory covered by wild geese in their migratory flights was revealed in the finding in East Kootenay, B.C., of the charred bones of a goose.

On the leg of the bird, which apparently had perished in a bush fire, was a tag bearing the name of Jack Miner, Ontario naturalist. The bird at one time had sought shelter on the great bird sanctuary at Kingsville, and was red by Miner. The tag and information concerning the incident were sent to Miner by a settler in an isolated district near where the bird was found.

Birds tagged by the naturalist have been found as far east as the Atlantic coast and from the Gulf of Mexico to Baffin's Land, but this is the first time one ever has been known to cross the Rocky Mountains.

Poultry Development

Dominion Poultry Official Relieves Prospects Are Still Encouraging

F. C. Elford, Dominion Poultry Husbandman, and outstanding leader in poultry development in Canada, on a recent occasion observed that few people realize what a big part the hen has played in the national life of Canada. "There are many prominent business men today who would not be where they are if it had not been for the hens on the farm at home," he states. "The poultry provided the money for shoes, and slates and pencils, and were in fact responsible for keeping them at school. I myself do not know of any other business today which pays better dividends than poultry raising, and I believe the prospects are still encouraging."

Future Development Of Western Canada Must Be Planned On a Scientific Basis

Working On Wheat

To Resist Drought

University Of Alberta Installing Equipment For This Purpose

Resistance to drought is a new wheat breeding project which has been undertaken by O. B. Amott, University of Alberta. Over a period of years, losses due to drought are probably as great as all the plant diseases combined. It has been estimated that during each of the last two years, the crop has been reduced by drought by 75 to 100 million bushels. Owing to the failure of crops to become established there is also the enormous loss in fertility due to soil drifting and the free growth of weeds. The National Research Council has given assistance in carrying out this project which will be under the direction of the associated committee in grain research. Except for some studies made at the University of Alberta on the fundamental nature of drought resistance in plants, little has been accomplished in Canada, but Russia has been intensively studying the problem for some time.

In this work artificial chinkoos are created by a machine. This machine has been described by Dr. T. A. Towner, of Exeter, and similar equipment is being built at the University of Alberta. In this way everything including moisture, is controlled.

Cheese Is a Body Builder

Supplies a Muscle Building Food In Concentrated Form

Here is an interesting item prepared by the Milk Utilization Service of the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Branch. "Is cheese eaten for its flavour, or for its food value?" The low per capita consumption of cheese in Canada clearly indicates that the majority of people do not recognize it as a muscle-building food in concentrated form, but consider it merely as a condiment or garnish. It is interesting to note that one pound of cheese supplies almost as much protein and fat as one gallon of milk and, in addition, has a high calcium, phosphorus and vitamins content. The muscle building foods are limited in number, and, since it is necessary that the diet contain a percentage of this type of food, cheese should be more extensively used, particularly at a time when health and strength must be maintained on a lowest food budget.

A MAN AND HIS HAIR

Speaking before a service club at Winnipeg recently, T. C. Main, division engineer of water supply for the Canadian National Railways, and consulting engineer to the Saskatchewan Commission on Conservation and Afforestation, warned that future development of western Canada must be planned on a scientific basis.

"Insofar things have been made to happen in haphazard manner. Settlers were allowed to homestead and cultivate land that was entirely unfit for cultivation. Sloughs and lakes were drained; timber and bush areas have been burned intentionally and accidentally, and land has been forced to grow cereal crops until practically all the fibre is gone," he stated.

Chief causes of drought were beyond the control of our present state of scientific development, but anyone who had studied the question of drought in southern Saskatchewan, southeastern Alberta and southwestern Manitoba, would agree that human agency was to blame in a measure, he said.

Pointing to the seriousness of the water situation in the west, Mr. Main said it could be proven the southern Saskatchewan and Alberta, and to a lesser degree of Manitoba, would be limited not by the amount of food that could be produced, but rather by the amount of water that could be conserved.

Conservation of water and timber he considered as the two important factors in solving our drought ills. Five factors he condemned—close cutting and over-pasture of prairie grass; reducing the forest area, chiefly by fire, 90 per cent of which were preventable; draining sloughs and lakes; growing too many cereals in succession; farming land unsuitable for cultivation.

Solutions for drought and soil drifting he gave as follows: planting at least one mile of suitable hedge on each quarter section; strip farming to minimize drifting until hedges are four or five feet high; production of wheat that consumes less water in growing; a forest policy that will make serious fires impossible; conservation of young tree growth and reforestation so that in 50 years there will be as much timber as at present; stoppage of draining of sloughs, lakes and marshes; storing as much spring run-off water as is economically possible; setting aside of light lands as forest reserves and planting with suitable trees; developing mixed farming; encouraging municipalities to construct public water supplies and the farmers who need them to construct effective dugouts.

Canadian Banking System

U.S. Senator Praises System Here in Comparison With That Of United States

The happy position of Canada's banking system as compared with that of the United States was dramatically placed before the United States senate by Carter Glass, of Virginia, former secretary of the treasury.

Glass was pressing his revision of the banking laws to permit branch banking in the United States.

Canada, he said, had not had one single bank failure "during this frightful depression" while in the United States 5,000 banks had gone under with losses during the past two years to depositors of $5,500,000,000.

For years treasury and currency experts have been attempting to get congress to permit branch banking. Their efforts have been so far successfully opposed by representatives of smaller communities and farming areas who believe in individual and personal banking.

You should know this about oil, says mechanic

The proper oiling of household devices presents a problem different from any other form of lubrication. Sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, lawn mowers, the electric motors of washers, fans, refrigerators and similar devices have a tendency to collect dirt and rust when not in service. Consequently all intended for general household use should clean and protect as well as lubricate.

3-in-One Oil will do these three things. For, unlike ordinary oil, it is really three high quality oils in one—animal, mineral and vegetable. It penetrates quickly, cleans the metal surfaces, "stays put," reduces wear and saves repairs. It also prevents rust and tarnish.

Don't make the mistake of thinking "any kind of oil will do." Play safe; insist on 3-in-One Oil. Sold everywhere, by good grocery, hardware, drug and general stores. For your protection, look for the trade mark "3-in-One" printed in Red on every package.

Plan Trade Drive

Ontario To Place Sales Representatives In Winnipeg, Montreal and Maritime Provinces

As part of an intensive drive to secure a greater share of the Canadian market, the Ontario Department of Agriculture is placing sales representatives in Winnipeg, Montreal and Maritime Provinces. It was announced by Hon. H. T. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, that the duties of these representatives, who will work through the agricultural council, will be to keep the department informed as to conditions in the various provinces, the volume of sales of Ontario agricultural products and the best means of increasing those sales.

Col. Kennedy declared that the government was launching a drive for more markets and that up till now much of the effort had been directed toward securing a better foothold in the British market. There was a big field for Ontario products in the other provinces of Canada, the minister believed. As to the British market, the Ontario Government already had a representative in London and at the present time W. R. Somerset, chairman of the agricultural board, was in the Old Country in the interests of Ontario trade.

JOSEPH THE DREAMER

Golden Text: "Take thought for things honorable in the sight of all men."—Romans 12:17.

Lesson: Genesis 37:1-11.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3:1-6.

Explanations and Comments

Joseph's Troubles With His Half-Brothers, verses 1-4.—The phrase "These are the generations of Jacob," means, "Here begins the history of Jacob's descendants" (especially of Joseph). Jacob was living quietly at Hebron. Joseph, the elder son of Jacob and Rachel, is a lad of seventeen when he comes into the picture. Joseph was "a lad with the sons of Bilhah and with the sons of Zilpah," an expression which Delitzsch understands as meaning that he was their attendant, their subordinate. Of course trouble would arise for Bilhah and Zilpah were bondswomen and naturally jealous of Rachel, and their sons would, just as naturally, be jealous of Rachel's son. Joseph's task was to help these half-brothers feed the flock, for whose pasturage they were obliged to wander far and wide.

Joseph brought his father an evil report of these men. "We are not obliged to suppose that Joseph was a gratuitous tale-bearer, or that when he carried their evil report to his father he was actuated by an unworthy spirit. That he very well knew how to hold his tongue no man ever gave more adequate proof; but he that understands that there is 'a time to keep silence' necessarily sees also that there is 'a time to speak.' And no one can tell what torture that pure young soul may have endured in the reviling jestures, when left alone to withstand, day after day, the outrage of these coarse and unscrupulous men."—Marque Dods.

Another cause of trouble was the father's favoritism. Jacob had good reason to prefer Joseph to his brothers. Joseph was "a goodly person and well-favored," he was affectionate, bright and quick, ever ready to do his father's bidding. His brothers were fierce, sour, sordid men. Jacob could not help loving Joseph the most, but he could have kept from showing his preference. All children have equal claim upon a parent's care. Duty, common sense, reason should have guided Jacob in the treatment of his children; instead he was guided by his heart alone.

Jacob showed his partiality by giving Joseph a coat of many colors, thought to have been a sort of magisterial robe, such as was worn by those in authority, or by the rich who did no manual work, and in that case a virtual sign that Joseph, the next to the youngest of twelve sons, was given the birthright, the position belonging to the eldest. This lordly attire was always in evidence, and the brothers hated him and could not speak peaceably unto him.

"From bitterness preserve me, Lord; From jealous thoughts protect my day;

Against the stroke of envy's sword Help me to hold my way.

And grant my soul sufficient grace To gladden at another's prize. And look upon his eager face With sympathetic eyes.

—Henry Robinson Palmer.

Diet Announced As Cure

Celiac, a Childhood Disease, Requires Only Good Food As Treatment

A cure for celiac disease without a drop of medicine was reported to the American Medical Association at New Orleans. Diet alone does it.

This disease is one of the pitiful ills of childhood, causes retarded growth, serious stomach disorders, growing weakness and, when too long neglected, almost certain death.

Pre disposition to relapse had made it difficult to cope with. Dr. Sidney V. Haas of New York City, said there has not been one recurrence.

The new treatment is an example of the rapidly-developing science of finding in two or three common-place articles of food a regulator that enables the body to convert the entire diet into its natural "medicines."

One cause of celiac disease is a peculiar form of sugar starvation. No matter how much sugar a child eats the system cannot assimilate it, and the sweet only makes them worse.

Dr. Haas found the sugar in ripe bananas can be eaten freely and that in the children's bodies it converts ordinary sugars into an agreeable form.

MANITOBA IS NOT IN FAVOR OF A WHEAT QUOTA

Winnipeg, Man.—Establishment of a wheat quota at the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference would not be in the best interests of wheat producers, although sale of western wheat is of the utmost importance. This was the chief of six points agreed upon at a conference of Manitoba agricultural interests called by Premier John Bracken to formulate Manitoba's views for submission to the Dominion Government prior to the conference.

Other points agreed upon were: Stabilization of exchange is important.

Wider markets are necessary for all varieties of Canadian farm produce.

An Empire intelligence marketing board is desirable.

Wider facilities should be provided for the distribution of British films throughout Canada.

Canadian delegates at the Imperial Conference should be asked to give preference to British goods most needed by Canadian consumers such as woollen goods, household articles, textiles, boots and shoes, seeds and plants.

A special committee was appointed to draft the suggestions and instructed to sit in with a conference to be held of representatives of boards of trade and industries other than agriculture. Findings of both Manitoba conferences will first be laid before a conference of the four western provinces at Regina, June 20, when a submission embodying the viewpoint of western Canada generally will be prepared.

Low Rates On Grain

Transportation Of Grain From Fort William To Montreal Cheapest Ever

Montreal, Que.—The Gazette published the following:

New record low rates of 3½ cents a bushel for the transportation of grain from Fort William to Montreal have been accepted during the last two days. It was announced 10 days ago that five cents a bushel was being offered and accepted, and there was a report that a rate of 4½ cents was even offered. Since then the situation has dropped from 'bad to worse' and several shippers have decided to lay-up their vessels rather than operate them at a loss.

"Though small steamers are carrying grain at this abnormally low figure, it is maintained that no mathematical computations or calculations will enable their owners to produce a profit from the operation. It is even said grain cannot be carried profitably at seven cents a bushel, though several firms decided to continue accepting the lower rate in the hope that the situation would improve during the season."

Bombay Riots

Hindus and Moslems Continue To Engage In Street Battles

Bombay, India.—Fresh sporadic rioting between Hindus and Moslems broke out in Bombay, despite the presence of alert British soldiers, and before it was checked 11 more persons had been killed and 98 injured.

Thus the toll of the communal fighting, which has flared intermittently for some days, rose to 99 dead and 948 wounded.

British troops frequently opened fire to check occasional street battles.

There was still some looting, but the authorities expressed confidence that they were gaining control of the city through the energetic action of the soldiers.

Doukhobors Protest

Write Letter To Press and Send Message To The Hague

Vancouver, B.C.—Doukhobors facing imprisonment to nude parading have written to the press and various public organizations, including the 'anti-militaristic' bureau of 'The Hague,' protesting against their treatment.

In a letter to a local newspaper, the Doukhobors state: "It is a tragedy when one misunderstands another. And this is just what is happening today, without any cause whatever. Innocent people are being sentenced to three years' imprisonment."

"We know that truth is bought on Golgotha, and will ever remain there. We forgive everybody who has mistreated us. But when we come to our children and their mothers, this is where we stop and say 'There is no excuse for civilized people to force others into conditions that they are not able to bear. The whole world has been aroused by the L'nderberg case. But what is going on in Nelson; this is worse than kidnapping—a drama full of man's inhumanity to man.'"

Representatives of the Doukhobors have sent a cablegram to the 'anti-militaristic bureau at The Hague,' pleading against their treatment.

"We Doukhobors—Sons of Freedom of Canada—appeal to you," runs the message. "Please raise your voice in the name of trampled truth. Seven hundred in jail. More than half imprisoned. The same conviction awaits the rest—just for appearing nude in protest against brutality. Our children forcibly taken away from their mothers. Please take this matter seriously, or you will be guilty before God and all idealists. Remember our struggle is truth. If you are brothers of same faith you can not be silent."

Tariffs Hurt Trade

No Inclination On Canada's Part To Enlarge Trade With U.S.

San Francisco.—W. L. McGregor, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce that in the face of existing grain tariff laws there is no inclination on Canada's part to enlarge its trade with the United States.

"Mr. McGregor said he was not entirely satisfied in his own mind that the commercial treatment Canada had been accorded at Washington was in conformity with enlightened business opinion in the United States. If United States business interests are not satisfied with the present economic relationships between their countries, he suggested, they might make themselves a little more articulate on the subject."

An International Park

Waterloo Lakes Park In Alberta; To Be Internationalized

Ottawa, Ont.—A bill designed to make the Waterloo Lakes National Park in Alberta, a portion of the Waterton-Glacier International Park, was given first reading in the House of Commons. Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, sponsoring the bill, said the Waterloo Lakes Park adjoined the Glacier Park, a United States property in Montana. Some time ago the United States government had suggested that the two parks be regarded as an international park and had passed legislation to that end.

Thinks Judges Underpaid

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian judges are too numerous and underpaid, Premier R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons. The judiciary as a whole does not reflect the genius of the legal profession from which it is recruited, and in too many instances political patronage, rather than individual merit, has elevated a man to the bench.

Churchill Cattle Shipment

Expected Cattle Cargo To Leave Early In August

Churchill, Man.—The first boat to arrive here this summer will return with a shipment of cattle to Europe. While arrangements have been made for the shipping of 2,000,000 bushels of grain via Hudson Bay, the cattle cargo is likely to leave here early in August, before the wheat shipments start.

It is stated here a stockyard will be constructed near the dock. Hay will be brought here from The Pas. Saskatoon, Sask.—The possibility of huge shipments of wheat through Churchill to the Spillers Ltd. Mills, at Cardiff and London, England, was disclosed in a statement, issued by James M. Stevenson, K.C., president of the Board of Trade. Mr. Stevenson said that negotiations had been opened with the British milling firm through the trade through Churchill committee of the Board of Trade.

Dublin, Irish Free State.—President Eamon De Valera of the Irish Free State said he would personally attend the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference in July if government business did not interfere.

The president did not name other members of the Free State representation, although he said it was likely three ministers of his government would accompany him.

Spain Requires Wheat

Government Carrying On Negotiations For Large Purchases

Madrid, Spain.—Financial circles said the Spanish Government had approached local branches of foreign banks in an attempt to arrange payment for the contemplated importation of 100,000 tons (about 3,733,000 bushels) of wheat.

The result of the negotiations was not known, but the government wants to spread the payment over periods of three, six and nine months, it was understood, the wheat to be bought from Canada, the United States and Argentina.

Banking circles said a government decree ordering the purchase of the wheat, expected soon, would bring Spain's total importations to 200,000 tons (about 7,466,000 bushels), but that it probably would be necessary to import another 200,000 tons before the new crop is available in July, since the domestic supply is exhausted.

U.S. Senate Refuses

To Legalize Beer

First Senate Roll Call Brings Overwhelming Defeat

Washington.—The United States senate has refused to legalize beer. The first senate roll call for beer since prohibition brought overwhelming defeat. The main vote was on an amendment by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Missouri, to the revenue bill to legalize 2.75 beer and tax it 24 cents a gallon to help finance a $1,500,000,000 public construction program.

Just previously the senate had turned down—60 to 23—a proposal by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, to alter the Tydings amendment to make it allow four per cent. alcohol content.

Eleven Democrats voted with 12 Republicans for the Bingham four per cent. amendment.

Reported To League

Natives Have Been Burned Alive By Frontier Military Force

Geneva, Switzerland.—The burning alive of many men, women and children by the Liberian frontier military force was reported to the League of Nations in a communication signed on behalf of the British, United States and French governments.

These atrocities, the report asserted, were committed against tribesmen of the Kru coast.

The Liberian delegate submitted a memorandum to the League's Liberian commission confirming the burning of 44 villages and the killing of 61 men, 49 women and 29 children.

OUR NATIONAL RADIO TO BE BEST IN WORLD

Ottawa, Ont.—Harmony reigned in the House of Commons when the radio control bill was under review. Party lines were forgotten, suggestions and advice flew back and forth across the Chamber and in complete unanimity the measure was given second reading and all but one or two clauses passed through committee.

The bill would establish a Canadian radio broadcasting commission to control a nationalized system of radio. With headquarters in Ottawa and branch offices throughout the Dominion, the commission of three would regulate broadcasting through its own chain of stations from coast to coast.

Premier R. B. Bennett, sponsor of the bill, said it was designed to give Canadians a broadcasting system "not excelled elsewhere in the world." It would assure Canadian control of Canadian broadcasting, free from foreign interference or influence.

Tentative salaries of $12,000 a year for the chairman and $10,000 each for the commissioners, were suggested by the Prime Minister. One commissioner will be French-speaking and one will be a radio engineer, possessing the necessary technical training. The commission, said Mr. Bennett, should be composed of men "with an excellent appreciation and understanding of the value of broadcasting to the nation and should have some understanding of what is pleasing to the major part of the people of this country in the form of programmes."

Indicating the harmony and co-operation that reigned throughout the discussion, the Prime Minister, instead of politics will play no part in selecting the personnel of the commission, suggested to the Liberals they present a list of men acceptable to them. A further indication of this unusual spirit came when the Prime Minister asked five suggested penalties for infractions of broadcasting regulations and adopted the proposals of Major C. G. Power, Lib., Quebec South.

The provinces, the Prime Minister announced, will have something to say over programme selections.

Members of the commission must devote their full time to the work. They will be barred from having any private business ties, especially relating to radio or broadcasting. Upon retirement, they will receive pensions. The chairman will hold office for 10 years, the vice-chairman for nine years and the commissioner for eight.

With an eye to the future, it was incorporated in the bill that control of television and other scientific developments, also would be placed under the commission.

Hunting For "Baychino"

Another Airplane May Enter Search For Deserted Fur Ship

Point Barrow, Alaska.—A double aerial search for the "Baychino," fur trading vessel anchored off the Arctic Coast, is in prospect here. Pilot William T. Graham and Mrs. Edna Christofferson, Portland, Ore. aviators, surveyed 1,000 square miles of the rough ice pack without glimpsing the missing ship, which they believe carries a valuable cargo of furs.

Pilot Joe Crosson, noted northern aviator here with a motion picture cameraman on a scouting expedition, also said he might make exploratory flights in search of the "Baychino."

Seattle, Wash.—To replace the steamship "Baychino," lost along the Alaska coast in the ice floes of the seas of the north, the Danish motorship "Karise" will sail from here in June for the Canadian Arctic via Vancouver, B.C.

The "Karise" was chartered by the Hudson's Bay Company from the Svensen Fur Trading Company for a voyage to Herschel Island and other Canadian Arctic posts. She will be manned by Canadian officers and crew.

Spruce Grove News.

Messrs Schlang, W Brox, H and C Loeblich motored down to the Fort on Tuesday, to attend the ball tournament there.

Two of the Grove's hardy youths are said to have had the pleasure of a "bawch" at Edmontown Beach on the holiday.

The new Texaco service station opened this week, with Reg. Pilcher in charge.

The chicken pickers are busy again; a prominent resident had about a dozen picked from his hen coop on Sat. night.

A lot more business people are beginning to believe in signs—The Dook has had a large sign installed at his water mill by an expert from Stony; and now the barber and shoemaker are arranging to have their places decorated with signs.

Milk is now going down in price—the local dairyman is giving 14 quart tickets for a dollar.

Mr Morrow, a former resident here, paid the Grove a visit on Saturday.

Local dancers availed themselves of the opportunity Sat. Evg of a free dance at the opening in Stony Plain of a new cabaret.

The game billed for Sunday last in Edmontown senior amateur league in which Herman Loeblich was to pitch for the Royals was, owing to wet grounds, postponed.

The manager of the Cash Store reports a big "run" of this week's grocery special.

IN BED WITH BACKACHE

"Two years ago I suffered with severe pains in the small of my back, and could with difficulty hold myself upright. At times I had to go to bed for a week at a time. I went to hospital for 3 months, and they certainly did me good, but they told me they could not bring me any medicine, but that I needed complete rest for 6 months, away from the children. I could not bring myself to be parted from the children, so I did not go to hospital any more. I started using Kruschen Salts and have had no trouble with my back since."—Mrs. W. Kruschen, contains vital salts that go right down to the root cause of backache. Soon after you start on Kruschen, the sharpest pains of backache cease. As you persevere with the "little daily dose" the twinges become less and less frequent, until finally you hardly know what an ache or pain is. Then, if you're wise, you'll prevent the possibility of a relapse by continuing the tiny, tasteless pinch of Kruschen every morning.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

MARGARET PEDLER

Author of "The Splendid Polly," "The Hermit of the East," "The House of Dreams-Come-True," Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

She did not tell him why. But within herself she knew that no woman would ever be afraid with Geoffrey Burke. Afraid of him, possibly, but never afraid that he would not be entire master of any situation where physical strength and courage were the paramount necessities. She reflected a little grimly to herself that it was this very forcefulness which gave the man his unquestionable power of attraction. There is always a certain fascination in sheer, ruthless strength—a favour of magnificence about it, something tentatively heroic, which appeals irresistibly to that primitive instinct somewhere hidden in the temperamental make-up of even the most ultra-twentieth-century feminine product.

And Jean was quite aware that her herself was not altogether proof against the attraction of Burke's dynamic virility.

There was another kind of strength which appealed to her far more. She knew this, too. The still, quiet force that was Tormarin's—deep, and unfathomable, and silent, of the spirit as well as of the body. Contrasted with the savage power she recognized in Burke, it was like the fine, tempered steel of a rapier compared with a heavy bludgeon.

"A penny for your thoughts!" Jean came out of her reverie with a start. She smiled.

"Don't get conceited. I was thinking about you."

"Nice thoughts, I hope, then?" suggested Burke. "It's better"—audaciously—"to think well of your future husband."

The old gipsy's words flashed into Jean's mind:

"You'm bound together so fast and firm as weddin'-ring could bind 'ee", and her face flamed scarlet.

It was true—at least as far as she was concerned—the wedding-ring could bind her more firmly to Blaise than her own heart had already bound her.

The instinct to flirt with Burke was in abeyance. It was an instinct only born of heartache and unhappiness, and now that Blaise's mood was so much less cool and distant than it had been, the temptation to play with unexploded bombs had correspondingly lost much of its charm.

"Don't be tiresome, Geoffrey," she said vexedly. "It's only you would make up your mind to be—just pale."

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

She's all worn out again

Poor girl... she has the same old headaches... backache... and all those things. She ought to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in tablet form.

W. N. U. 1943

I should think much better of you." "Then I'm afraid you'll have to think worse," he retorted.

Just at that moment they encountered a flock of sheep, snubbing leisurely along towards them and blocking up the narrow roadway, and Jean was spared the necessity of replying by the fact that Burke immediately found his hands full, manoeuvring a path for the mare between the broad, curly backs of the bleating multitude.

The drover of the flock was, of course, a hundred yards or more behind his charges, negligently occupied in relighting his pipe, so that no assistance was to be looked for in that direction, and as the sheep bumped against the mare's legs and crowded up against the wheels of the trap in their characteristically maddening fashion, it required all Burke's skill and dexterity to make a way through the four-foot crowd.

The chestnut's own idea of dealing with the difficulty was to charge full speed ahead, an idea which by no means facilitated matters, and she fought her bit and fairly danced with fury as Burke checked her at almost every yard.

They had nearly reached the open road again, and Jean, looking down on the sea of woolly backs, with the howling cloud of hoof-driven dust above them, thought she could fully appreciate the probable feelings of the Israelites as they approached the further shore of the Red Sea. And it was just at this inauspicious moment that the drover, having lit his pipe, his satisfaction, looked up and grasped the situation.

Guilty conscience not only makes cowards, but is also prolific in the creation of fools, and the drover, stung into belated action by the consequences of his previous remissness, promptly did the most foolish thing he could.

He let off a yell that tore its way through every quivering nerve in the mare's body, and with a shout of "Round 'em, lad!" sent his dog—a half-trained youngster—barking like a creature possessed, full tilt in pursuit of the sheep.

That settled it as far as the chestnut was concerned. With a bound she might forward, scattering the sheep, or three remaining sheep that still blocked her path, and the next moment the light, high cart was rocking like a cockle-shell in a choppy sea, as she tore along, utterly out of hand.

Luckily, for a couple of miles the road ran straight as a dart, and after the first gasp of alarm Jean found herself curiously collected and able to calculate chances. At the end of the two miles, she knew, there came a steep declivity—a typical Devonshire hill, like the side of a house, which the British workman has made his usual crude and inefficient manner, so that loose stones and inequalities of surface added to the dangers of negotiation. At the foot of this descent was a sharp double turn—a veritable death-trap. Could Burke possibly get the mare in hand before they reached the brow of the hill? Jean doubted it.

There was no sound now in all the world except the battering of the mare's hoofs upon the road and the screaming rusk of the wind in their ears. The hedges flew past, a green, distorted blur. The strip of road fled away beneath them as though coiled up by some swift revolving cylinder; ahead, it ended sheer against a sky blue as a periwinkle, and into that blue they were rushing at thirty miles an hour. When they reached it, it would be the end. Jean could almost hear the crash that must follow, sense the sickening feeling of being flung headlong, hurled into space—hurling down into black nothingness. Her glance sought Burke's face. His jaw was outflung, and she could guess at the clenched teeth behind the lips that shut like a rat-trap. His eyes gleamed beneath the penthouse brows, drawn together so that they almost met above his lightning beard of a nose.

In an oddly detached manner she found herself reflecting on the dogged brute strength of his set face. If anything could check that flying, foaming, rocketing along between the shafts like a red-brown streak, he could.

She wondered how long he would be able to hold the beast—to hang on! She remembered that flying, foaming, rocketing along between the shafts that, after a time, the strain of pulling against a runaway becomes too much for human bodies and muscles, and that a man's hands grow numb and helpless! While the dead pull on the bit equally numbs the mouth of the horse, so that he, too, has no more any feeling to be relied upon by the pressure of the bit!

Her eyes dropped to Burke's hands. With a little inward start of astonishment she realized that he was not attempting to pull against the chestnut. He was just holding—holding—holding—steadying her, ever so little, in her mad gallop. Jean felt the mare sway, then swing level again, still answering faintly to the reins.

Burke's hands were very still. She wondered vaguely, why—now—he didn't pit his strength against the bit against the tender corners of the mare's mouth. Jean was conscious of a faint difference in the mad pace of her. Not enough to be accounted a check—but still something, some appreciable slackening of the whirlwind rush towards that blue blur of sky ahead.

It seemed as though Burke, too, should the Canadian railways make a charge to the public for time-tables? This point was raised in the Common Railway Committee. In Great Britain a small charge is made, but Sir Henry Thornton, doubled it, if it would be possible to do so in Canada. The universal custom is to provide time tables free. The result is that very often they are taken by people who do not require them.

Growing Girls!

Profit by the Experience of Others at This Vital Time

"When I was 16 I was so ill my people thought I was going to die," writes Mrs. Annie Wilson, Sioux Ave., Toronto. "I had scarcely any blood, and was so weak I could hardly walk. Had no appetite and I lost ground every day for a long time, until a friend recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got them, and before I had finished the first box I was feeling much better. I continued taking the Pills until I was completely well. I went to all the dances and had the time of my life again. I certainly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to every girl who is thin, or run-down in any way, for they certainly rebuild my health."

Don't let anyone rob your growing daughter of health and vigour. Give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They banish the cause of weakness, new blood which imparts health, vigour and vitality. Equally good for all run-down or nervous conditions. At your druggist's. 50c a package.

Baltimore Repeals Old Laws

Made When State Was Founded Two Hundred Years Ago

Baltimore, by the largest vote ever given a question or a candidate, has repealed its 200-year-old Sunday observance laws, which even precluded a man's kissing his wife on the Sabbath.

By a majority of more than 83,000, the city wiped off its books the Sunday laws which were born with the Maryland legal code when the Calverts founded the state, and for the first time, can go to moving picture shows, sport events, and make certain retail purchases legally next Sunday.

Fishing at Jasper.

The announcement that trout fishing in the lakes at Jasper Park will open Wed. next, June 1st has attracted the attention of anglers who have been watching Canada's great fish planting experiment for some time. Already numerous prominent anglers have been booked to go to Jasper for the opening of the season, in order that they may be on hand when fishing in those waters which up to 1927 were barren of fish of any kind.

Hit and Run

The boxing game seems to have, like stocks, fallen to new low levels, the latest contest here, on Saturday, being over the change from a two-dollar bill. The story reads like a Highway accident—a hit-and-run affair; Mike made the hit and the other contender made a run. Chaps who can't tell a two-dollar bill from a one-dollar bill should consult Mecklenburg.

The Theater of the Air.

From an interesting laboratory demonstration or at least the hobby of the experimenter, the television art has progressed to the stage where it is now ready to step into the living room to entertain the family circle.

On the one hand the receiving equipment is developed to the point where simplified operation and better pictures bid for the attention of the average layman, who is interested primarily in entertainment rather than in technical details.

On the other hand the air is being filled with television schedules of genuine entertainment value rather than test signals of interest only to engineers and experimenters.

In short, the Theater of the Air is throwing open its doors. It remains for public interest and support to provide a worthy audience.

With all the engineering and development work being done on radio receivers, it is naturally expected that the results of this engineering will be applied to the new field of visual reception or television.

Such is now the case, and it appears that home television is "just around the corner." The tangible evidence was seen at the recent Radio Show in New York where a practical, highly efficient receiving set was on display. This set is a marvel of compactness, when you consider that it is at once a talking machine, a radio and a magic lantern.

The set operates on alternating current with a projector forthrowing the pictures on a ground glass screen from 3 to 8 inches square, depending on the operator's wish. A simple control focuses the picture at the desired size.

News of Baseball.

Stony's senior ball team was entered in the baseball tournament at Fort Sask'n on Tuesday, and a host of ball fans from here followed them down, to see the contest. The Stony team went down in the first round, the Lamont team beating them 3 runs to 2.

There are three games billed for Sunday next, in the League, all teams playing but the Stony Plainers; there will be a game here, nevertheless, as Wabamun comes here to play Walther League; Winteburn plays at Duffield; and Spruce Grove goes to Ooway. The following Wednesday Onoway team plays the Stony Plain team here.

The League ball game here Thursday between Wabamun and Stony resulted in a win for the former by the score of 4 to 3. The threat of rain kept down the attendance of fans, but it turned out to be a good game withal. Stony battery: Ph. Enders and Wm. Michael Miller. Reiny Kubik refereed in a very satisfactory manner.

Walther League ball team did not keep their scheduled appointment at Onoway on Sunday, owing to the rain storm.

In the Midget Ball League a game was arranged between Stony and Glory Hills for the holiday morning, but the Hillers failed to put in an appearance.

Sporting Notes

Stony Girls basketball team played their first away from-home game last week at the Grove, and made a very good showing—running up a good score, while 'tis said Grove Girls' score was a very low one.

Stony's athletes were well represented at the Holborn sports meet on the Victoria holiday.
